Background

Marie has been a Danish elite runner at The Danish National Ultrarunning Team since March 2021. Her trainer is Mathias Jørgensen, a former Danish elite ultra runner.

Marie has had an active lifestyle her whole life, and she started to perform long distance running at the age of 19 years old, where she ran her first marathon at Copenhagen marathon in 1997 and won in her age group. Marie has since 1997 been running an average of 115k a week and when she approaches her A goals, she runs around 160k a week beside doing strength training and yoga daily. Marie spends on average 16 hours on training weekly.

Marie also has a working career beside her running career. Marie works as a Manager in KPMG's Advisory, Forensic team. She originally started her career as a manager in the Healthcare sector with focus on quality assurance in medical treatment, system processes and controls, and budgeting and accounting. She later became an auditor for both large- and mid-sized pharmaceutical companies. She left audit to establish a new function within the Forensic and Big data analytics area and along the way was involved in a number of projects within forensic, compliance, and risk management. With KPMG, Marie has combined her experience into leading projects for different companies that focus on Financial Crime Compliance including financial statement fraud, forensic data analytics, third-party risk management, and regulatory compliance

Privately, Marie is married to Jens Cordt, Engineer, and together Marie and Jens have 3 daughters, Emma 16 years old, Lilly 15 years old and Anna 13 years old. In sparetime, Marie is running both with her husband and her Siberian Husky, Shila.
